FACTSHEET
Advanced Analytics

Understand how your workspaces are really used and maximise your productivity

Get flexible data to evolve your hybrid workspaces.

ROOMZ Advanced Analytics provides key metrics on the use of your collaboration spaces and allows you to determine the amount and type of office space you need.
Analyse and plan your space optimisation strategy to provide offices that correlate with real employee needs and create a collaborative, wellbeing-based experience.

HOW MUCH OFFICE SPACE?

With the development of hybrid working methods, workplaces are multiplying and some offices remain empty several days a week. Analyse your needs using data and readjust your floor space without hampering productivity.

WHAT TYPES OF SPACE?

With usage data mapped on your floor plans, monitor which collaboration spaces are most used to adjust supply and demand. ROOMZ has developed a decision support metric so that you can identify at a glance which spaces are overused and which are not, enabling you to establish a custom office strategy.

EMPLOYEE-CENTRIC WORKSPACES

Offices that fit the people, not the other way around. Identifying real needs will allow you to design workspaces that respond to new ways of working, improve the employee experience and enhance productivity.

TURN RAW DATA INTO INFORMATION

Understand employee trends and habits by defining your preferred periods of analysis to focus on specific times or days of the week.

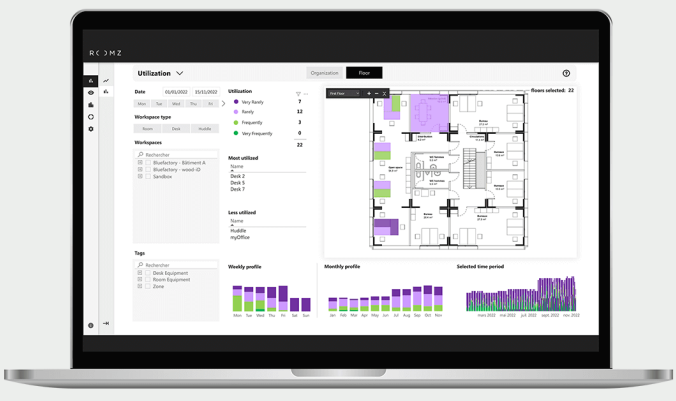

CREATE CUSTOMISED ANALYSES

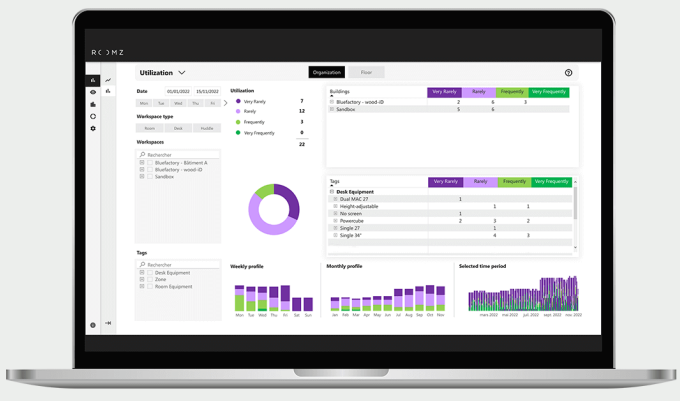

The system enables you to create your own analysis tags to create the metrics on which you want to base your strategic decisions. For example, you can get usage data by area or by office or room equipment.

ANALYSIS BY FLOOR PLAN OR BUILDING

Use your data flexibly by floor plan or building view according to your organisation. The dashboard overview gives you a quick understanding of how your workspaces are used and helps you identify areas for improvement.
